Notable progress for the Bulgarians in the region southeast of Pristina in Serbia, with the capture of 8,000 Serbians, 44 cannon and 22 machine guns, was reported by Berlin to-day in a statement; also that Teutonic troops had taken 1,500 additional Serbian prisoners and captured six cannon.

In a desperate battle being waged for Gorizia, it is declared by Rome that advances scored in the Osavla sector and elsewhere have been retained despite counter attacks. The Austrians have now penetrated new Italian lines several times, but on each occasion have been thrown back, General Cadorna's report asserts. Additional progress on the Carso plateau near Monte San Michele and San Martino is claimed by the Italians.

The latest Turkish war office statement does not indicate a continuance of offensive preparations on an extensive scale by Franco-British forces. It declares, however, that Turkish artillery fire drove off transports attempting to approach the coast of the Gallipoli peninsula possibly with reinforcements for the allied forces.

To-day's French official statement alludes only to operations of aviators.

Paris, Nov. 23.—French aviators have been unusually active recently, according to a report issued by the war office this afternoon. The report says:

"During the day of Nov. 22 French aviators at various points in the front took part in fights which resulted to our advantage. In Belgium two German aeroplanes were compelled by our airmen to come to earth. In the region of Rheims two aviators pursued by us flew away. In the Champagne district and on the borders of Argonne there have been five aerial engagements as the result of which three German aviators were compelled to come down suddenly within their own lines. The fourth was disabled and fell. The fifth came down to the ground in flames."

FRENCH BIPLANE

Tells of Artillery Duels on Franco-Belgian Front.

Berlin, via wireless, Nov. 23.—An aerial battle in which a French biplane was dashed to the ground, was reported by the German army headquarters to-day. Artillery duels took place at several points on the Franco-Belgian line, the statement says.

ONLY FRENCH ENGAGED.

In the Fighting on the Balkan Front,
Says London Report.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch received here from the representative of the British press at Saloniki dated Sunday, says: "The only troops of the entente allied forces which have thus far been in action in this theatre are the French. General Sarail, commander of the French forces on arriving at the scene of operations, took up the task with great energy."

"Without waiting for his whole army to be transported up country he boldly attacked the enemy with the purpose of effecting a junction with the Serbians holding Babusa pass. At one moment this junction was within ten miles of being made. Then the Serbian army fell back before superior numbers and withdrew out of reach of the French."

"Responsibility for the failure of effecting the junction rests neither with the French nor the Serbians, but rather upon a number of circumstances of which the least was the difficulty of transporting over a single track, ill-equipped line of railway, which runs a crooked course from Saloniki with grass often growing between the rails."

"As soon as the Serbians drew back from the Babusa pass the objects of the French offensive disappeared and they have been content since that time with defending their positions. The fighting of the past fortnight thus has been merely trench warfare."

GERMAN DREADNAUGHT SUNK?

Said to Have Struck Mine in Baltic Sea—
Most of Men Saved.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Rotterdam, says: "One of Germany's newest dreadnaughts struck a mine Friday in the Baltic sea and went to the bottom. All the members of the crew were saved except 33, who were drowned."

100 PEOPLE DROWNED.

When Bridge Over Salter River in Sicily
Was Washed Out.

Rome, via London, Nov. 23.—One hundred persons were drowned to-day by the washing away of a bridge over the Salter river near Licata, Sicily.

GREEKS WANT PEACE.

They Also Protest Against Blockade of Commerce.

London, Nov. 23.—"The only thing we want is peace, and you are trying to force us to make war," said D. G. Rhalis, the Greek minister of justice and guiding spirit in the cabinet of M. Skouloudis in an interview last Thursday with the Daily Mail's correspondent at Athens.

The British government and the British press," continued M. Rhalis, "are taking a disgraceful and infamous attitude toward us. You are starving us. Only to-day two more wheat vessels have been stopped by you."

"Your government, having piled fault on fault and delay on delay, with only a few thousand troops to help us, wants to force us to step in and die. You want us to succor you when no English soldiers have shed their blood in Serbia—when scarcely an English rifle has been fired."

"We do not wish to be another Belgium or another Serbia. We love Serbia, but before attempting to rescue a drowning friend one should be sure his effort is not merely a useless sacrifice."

Regarding the attitude of Greece in case the allies should be forced over the frontier, M. Rhalis said:

"Certainly no attempt would be made to disarm them. They can dig trenches and defend themselves if they want. We will even go to the extent of establishing a cordon to safeguard their retreat."

The Daily Mail's correspondent says he believes the attitude of M. Rhalis reflects that of a majority of the Greek people who are unanimous in their desire for peace.

"From the most ragged boatman to the king himself," the correspondent remarks, "the whole of the Greek people get up in the morning with the prayer on their lips 'Let there be no war to-day.'"

The correspondent discusses lengthily the attitude of the Greek king, who, he declares, is not pro-German, although decidedly under the influence of the queen.

"The king does not love Germany," says the correspondent. "He offered to join the allies last April on condition that the Dardanelles project be abandoned and an advance be made through Thrace. Since that date the king has gained implicit belief in German promises."

He said a few days ago: "The only thing that Germany will never conquer her. They tell me that I am between the devil and the deep sea and that I may as well throw in my lot with the allies, whose pressure can be immediate. But France and England, whatever happens, will never be severe with my country, while Germany will be implacable. It is my duty to save my country from the horrors of Belgium."

ALIENS ARE BLAMED.

For Blowing Up of War Supplies at Parry
Sound, Ont.

Parry Sound, Ont., Nov. 23.—Explosions generally attributed by officials to alien enemies occurred last night in the plant of the Canadian Explosives company, limited, which occupies nearly three square miles at Nobel, north of here. Five one-story buildings used for storage of cordite, which the company has been manufacturing in large quantities, were destroyed.

Fifteen hundred men are employed in the plant, but so far as is known there was no loss of life, the employees having quit work before the explosion. The magazines were situated a mile and a half from the manufacturing plant and with the exception of the night watchman, who it is thought is uninjured, no one was known to have been in the vicinity.

The fact that explosions occurred simultaneously gave rise to the theory that they were not the result of an accident. The force of the concussion was felt here, the Canadian Northern depot suffering some damage.

Major Storey, in charge of the Overseas contingent, is training here, and a half of the Canadian Explosives company, limited, which occupies nearly three square miles at Nobel, north of here. Five one-story buildings used for storage of cordite, which the company has been manufacturing in large quantities, were destroyed.

Word came from Toronto that a detachment of troops was being held there ready to be sent here, if required.

Passing of Rear Admiral Lawrence G.
Boggs, U. S. N., Retired.

Paris, Nov. 23.—Rear Admiral Lawrence G. Boggs, U. S. N., retired, is dead at his home in this city. He left the active service in 1908 after 18 years of sea duty.

Rear Admiral Boggs was born in the District of Columbia and entered the United States navy as assistant paymaster Sept. 24, 1869, became a paymaster in 1874, and was promoted to the rank of paymaster in 1880.

WAS BURIED ALIVE.

Body of Man Dug Up from Cellar of House After 18 Months.

Batavia, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Luigi Matroni was buried alive in the cellar of his house near Corfu in May, 1914, his body being trapped into a newly made grave, according to a story told by his widow to District Attorney Oom yesterday. Yesterday afternoon, Antonio Bobova, the alleged murderer, pointed out the place where the corpse was buried and a badly decomposed body was found which Mrs. Matroni identified as that of her husband. Bobova has confessed, the district attorney said.

Mrs. Matroni's long silence, she said, was due to fear of Bobova, who is her son-in-law. When she learned he was in prison for the stabbing affray she felt safe to tell.

POISON IN WATER SUPPLY.

Threatening Letters Had Been Received
by Family Where Well Is Located.

West Warwick, R. I., Nov. 23.—An attempt to poison a well from which the inhabitants of the village of Lippitt have obtained their drinking water came to light yesterday when State Assessor Perkins reported to John F. Murphy, town solicitor, that a substantial found in the well bucket recently was arsenic, sufficient in quantity to kill 40 persons. The discovery of the powder was made after a series of anonymous threatening letters had been received by members of a family in whose yard the well is located.

Britain of Blockade

Saloniki, Monday, via Paris, Tuesday, Nov. 23.—The resignation of Premier Skouloudis of Greece is expected momentarily on account of the difficulties between Greece and Great Britain, according to reports which have been circulated here.

IS NO BLOCKADE
OF GREEK PORTSBritish Foreign Office Also Denies That Greek Ships Are Being Seized and Held in British Ports.

London, Nov. 23.—The foreign office states that no Greek ships are being seized or held up in the ports of the United Kingdom and that no blockade of Greek ports has been instituted or is in force.

No amplification of the foreign office statement was obtainable in official headquarters. The universal deduction, however, is that the Greek government has satisfied the British demands submitted by Earl Kitchener, who was in Athens last week. It is assumed that Greece furnished guarantees of the safety of the Anglo-French expeditionary force. It is believed that announcements from Athens concerning the commercial blockade of Greece were premature in that they presented provisional intentions of the entente allies as accomplished facts.

BIG NAVY NEEDED

To Keep Off War From United States,
Says Hudson Maxim.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Hudson Maxim, inventor of many implements of war, addressing the Kansas City Commercial club at its annual dinner here last night, asserted that the only way America could be saved from war would be to have a navy big and powerful enough to stand successfully against any other navy in the world and "an army big enough to save the country from the horrors of defeat and humiliation, even should our navy be destroyed."

"Our little, poorly equipped army would not be able to offer resistance enough to make a ripple in the line of the enemy's advance," Mr. Maxim said. "Our army would make just about one good day's killing."

"Suppose the enemy should land at Boston or New York or at any of the ports between. Nothing upon heaven we could do would prevent the invaders from capturing the entire country between the Alleghenies and the sea within two weeks," Mr. Maxim's suppositional invasion was by "first-class European power at the conclusion of the present conflict."

"Any one of the great warring nations, if victorious," he said, "would have available several million war-tired veterans for a trial at arms with us, and should that foreign nation be either England or Germany, it would have a navy far superior to our own, and consequently could not be opposed by our navy. Hence that nation would be able to land upon our shores its legions of trained fighters, equipped with all the paraphernalia and machinery of war as fast as they could be brought overseas."

A quarter of a million men, Mr. Maxim said, could be landed within a month and reinforcements of that number brought over every 30 days thereafter, if needed. After they had captured that area, the inventor warned, "for America, there would be but one way out."

"We should have to ransom ourselves with gold and the enemy would throw his sword into the scales as did Brennus to make good weight. Our captors would take possession of our homes and of our women, for to every household would be detailed a certain number of officers or privates, to be fed and entertained. You would no longer be masters of your own households, but the officers in charge would be masters of ceremonies."

"While all the other nations of the world are armed to the teeth, and are still arming and fighting for the mastery of the world, it is the extreme of imbecility for us not to arm also. We are forced to decide whether we will kill our enemies in self-defense or allow our enemies to kill us."

"If this country should be invaded and we should send our young men to the front without adequate preparation, it would be merely to sacrifice them in a shambles of slaughter. We do not want to do this thing. It is your duty—it is the duty of all of us—to use our brains, our mouths, our pens and our money to the full to defeat the propaganda of pernicious perfidy."

SIX AT LEAST DEAD.

In Train Collision West of Columbus,
Ga., Last Evening.

Columbus, Ga., Nov. 23.—Six persons are known to have been killed, twelve others are missing and more than 30 injured as a result of a head-on collision six miles west of here last night between Central of Georgia passenger train No. 2 and a special train of 25 cars carrying the Gen. T. Kennedy funeral company. The bodies of some of the missing are thought to be under overturned cars of the slow train. Twelve of the Kennedy company's cars were reported derailed by fire. The cars containing trained animals were said to have been destroyed, killing many of the animals.

GERMANS PROTEST
PRICE OF FOODMiddleman Is Blamed and Sometimes
There Is Complaint—Speculation, Not Shortage of Food, Is Cause of the Increase in Cost to the Public.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—From every part of Germany come in increasing number complaints of the ever mounting cost of living—especially of eating—and coupled with them more and more frequently the charge that the middleman is to blame, and that speculation, not shortage of food, is responsible for jacking up prices to an unprecedented height.

Scarcely a day goes by but the food question is aired in at least one of the newspapers. The middleman refutes the charge that he is at fault quite as regularly as it is made, with the result, as The Tageblatt said, that the more earnestly the true explanation is sought, the more muddled becomes the whole subject.

Butter has been the latest commodity to go up. It had reached a three-mark-a-pound (75 cents) figure and was advancing daily when the authorities stepped in and anchored the price at two marks 80 pfennigs, where it still remains. There is, further, a strong agitation for the government seizure of all butter, just as grain and other things have been seized and then dealt out equably and systematically. One reason for this agitation is seen in south Germany, where a physician reports that the largest creamery in his district is paying the farmers at the rate of 1.40 marks for 10 liters of milk that are necessary for one pound of butter and is selling the product wholesale at 2.30 in Saxony; consequently the creamery refused to sell any of its butter at home, but for months has been sending all it could make to the north. An additional profit came from the butter-milk.

October is the rabbit season in Germany, and it had been anticipated this year particularly, as the people were in need of this usually inexpensive, yet appetizing, food. When the season opened, however, it was found that rabbits were scarce instead of plentiful, and were to be had only at prohibitive prices—ranging from 5.50 to seven marks ($1.37 to $1.75). It was charged that the middlemen had been holding back the supply with intent to increase the prices, but that charge is met by the assertion that the number of hunters this year is small, and that the number of rabbits is correspondingly smaller. Hence, by the law of supply and demand, prices have gone up. It is also pointed out that ammunition, guns and equipment for the hunt are dearer than ever.

The recent experience of a Berlin banker indicates that there may be some truth in the charges against the middlemen. He purchased a pullet in a Berlin game store at 3.75 marks a pound, his protest being met with the assertion that the farmer's country price was so high that it was impossible to retail the bird for less. Yet the next day he found he was able to buy a similar fowl in a suburb for 1.30. He took both birds to the chef of a big Berlin restaurant and was assured that in weight, quality and every other particular the two were identical.

In the mining country of western Germany the four largest associations of miners, numbering thousands of members, have felt it necessary to petition the imperial government to make it impossible for the well-to-do to buy up at prohibitive prices all the available meats and fats. Their petition reads: "Lately the quantity of meat and fats offered for sale so far as the great mass of the poorer people is concerned, has greatly decreased. Partly the war is responsible but it is plain also that the food is being withheld for speculative purposes."

The second postponement in the anthracite cases. The original cases were to become effective Oct. 1. The present new rates were to apply between the Pennsylvania mines and the Atlantic seaboard.

WOMAN STRANGELY MISSING.

Mrs. Gertrude A. Farnsworth of Springfield Is Unaware of Legacy.

Springfield, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Gertrude A. Farnsworth, who has recently been left a considerable sum of money under the will of a near relative and who is unaware of the legacy, has disappeared from her home in this village. All efforts of the woman's family and the police department to secure a clue as to her whereabouts have proved futile. Besides her husband, who is employed by the Hahs Trucking company, she has three children, her parents and a sister.

Mrs. Farnsworth is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whelden. She has lived in Rutland and Boston. The family ascribe no reason for the woman's disappearance.

The woman is described as middle-aged, about five feet tall, brown hair and blue eyes. Owing to trouble with her feet, Mrs. Farnsworth's walk is particularly noticeable. Chief of Police D. J. McDonald asks that he or some member of Mrs. Farnsworth's family be notified if any clue is obtained as to the woman's whereabouts.

EXPLOSIVES BEING STORED.

British Secret Service Agents Think
Cleveland Is the Place.

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Cleveland is the center of an investigation being conducted by British secret service agents, to uncover dynamite and war munitions believed to be stored here by enemies of the European allies. H. E. Gresham, vice consul for Great Britain in Cleveland, said last night.

Mr. Gresham said that he had informed his embassy in Washington that there was built in or near Cleveland a large factory constantly guarded since construction was started upon it. He declared the guards were of foreign birth and that no one other than persons known to be friendly to the enemies of England had been permitted to enter it or work upon it.

Mr. Gresham stated that he had no information as to whether the mysterious building contained explosives of any sort, but declared that the agents of his government detailed to the case were working upon that theory.

The site, as announced some time ago, is on state property southeast of the State House and on ground adjoining the Pavilion hotel. The building will house the supreme court, the state library and the industrial accident board.

with Murder of Frederick
H. Bishop on Sunday

Providence, R. I., Nov. 23.—Peleg E. Champlin, who was arrested here early to-day, was charged with murder after confessing, according to the police, that he killed Frederick H. Bishop, Bishop's body, bearing three bullet wounds and with the head crushed, was found in his home on Sunday. Mrs. Bishop was visiting relatives and did not know of the death of her husband until she returned home Sunday night.

Champlin is general inspector for the street railway company, by whom Bishop was employed as a motorman. The police took Champlin to headquarters for a questioning last night after learning from Mrs. Bishop that she had been very friendly with the inspector for two years.

According to the alleged confession, as given out by the police, Champlin said he went to Bishop's home at the latter's request early Sunday morning and Bishop inquired if he had been with Mrs. Bishop on Saturday. Champlin replied that he had not and then Champlin told the police, Bishop struck him and seized him by the throat. Champlin took a blackjack from his pocket and hit Bishop on the head. The men grappled and fell, Champlin said he was being held down on the floor when he pulled a revolver and fired.

A badge and a revolver holster found later in the house were owned by Champlin, the latter admitted.

Champlin was arraigned in court, pleaded not guilty and was held without bail for the grand jury.

The bullet missed the intended mark and struck the boy, entering the right lung and shattering three ribs.

Mr. Casp went three miles for help and the boy was brought home, the wound on a shoulder blade. A shot of this kind is almost always fatal. The boy was taken to East Haven yesterday and performed an operation on the lung. He says there is a chance for recovery.

TWO YEARS FOR ASSAULT.

Jackknife.

Brattleboro, Nov. 23.—Mahal Galinski was sentenced yesterday in municipal court by Judge Frank E. Barber to not less than two years and not more than two and one-half years in the house of correction for breach of the peace by assault upon Charles Sincariel. ## CHILDREN HURLED BY RUNAWAYS.

Miraculously, Stowe Youngsters Escaped Death.

Stowe, Nov. 23.—A pair of horses attached to a heavy wagon belonging to C. M. Stebbins, who resides on the lower farm, just north of the Stowe line, were standing at the Mt. Mansfield creamery Monday when they became frightened at an oil barrel which was being unloaded at the creamery, and ran across the triangle in front of C. F. Eddy's and across the street on to the opposite sidewalk near A. E. Douglass's residence.

Three children were on the walk, directly in the path of the horses. Two of the children, Rebecca Buron and Rubie Lackyard, were driving the third and smallest child, Leon Lackyard, on a sled. Rebecca Buron was thrown upon the Douglass veranda and was kicked on one knee. Rubie Lackyard was knocked over the fence and the little child was thrown under the heavy wagon, and had one arm badly hurt. Almost miraculously all escaped serious injury. The horses turned up the street and the wagon body breaking away, they ran a mile up the West Barre road, being stopped near W. L. Demeritt's by A. O. Holbrook.

CRIPPLED WOMAN SAVED.

But Her House at Woodstock Was Much
Damaged by Water.

Woodstock, Nov. 23.—An early morning fire to-day destroyed the main part of the house on the Sarah M. Kidder place, corner of Court street and Golf avenue, and badly damaged the ell part. Miss Clara Kidder, an old lady badly crippled and obliged to keep her bed most of the time, was the only one occupying the house at the time. She smelled the fire which is said to have caught in the attic, and rang her dinner bell. Soon the neighbors came and helped her out and saved some of the things, but it is said that the fire company was troubled at first with a deficiency of water and could not save the house. It is not known what caused the fire. There was no electricity in the house, and Miss Kidder was so crippled she was not able to get upstairs, it is said. There is about $800 insurance on the house and contents which will probably be mostly taken up by a mortgage to the Savings bank.
